

MATT MULLER

SALES MANAGER, LESAGE NATURAL

Creating purpose for workers with disabilities: Matt Muller, LeSage Natural

For LeSage Natural, bottling water is about more than just the final product. LeSage Natural, part of the non-profit Green Acres Regional Center, Inc., is the only bottler in North America with the sole purpose of employing people with developmental disabilities. Every bottle at LeSage Natural is filled and labeled by hand—not by a machine—by someone with a developmental disability.

Here, Matt Muller, sales manager for LeSage Natural, discusses how employment gives people a sense of purpose, a sense of accomplishment, and a sense of pride.

“The spirit of America is to work, is to accomplish, is to produce things, is to provide services. We’re proud of what we do, and I’m proud of those guys.”

—MATT MULLER

Learn more about our workforce reforms at TheFGA.org/workforce-reforms.

Watch the full interview at:
TheFGA.org/videos

