

Kentucky State Rep. Phillip Pratt on the REINS Act and executive power

Rep. Phillip Pratt sees it all too often—when the executive branch can't get policies passed in the legislature, it turns to the bureaucracy and regulatory agencies for a runaround. That's not the way the Constitution set it up, but it's how our government operates today—with businesses and taxpayers paying the price.

America needs the REINS Act to end the abuse of power by the executive branch by requiring legislative approval of costly regulations.

“Without the REINS Act, unfortunately, regulators and/or bureaucrats get to do whatever they want to.”

—REP. PHILLIP PRATT

For more information on the REINS Act and how to fight back against big government, visit TheFGA.org/reins-act.

Watch the full interview at:
TheFGA.org/videos

