

The Opportunity in Education Policy with Arkansas Rep. Keith Brooks

One of the biggest, most lasting changes that came from COVID-19 is the engagement level of parents and caregivers with their kids' education. According to Arkansas Rep. Keith Brooks in the latest "FGA Profiles" video, this is a moment when policymakers can do something truly impactful, not just for today's students but for generations to come. Watch to learn what Rep. Brooks sees as the most impactful way that government can empower parents and caregivers, and why he believes that money should follow students, not schools.

"My vision for students in Arkansas is that we would not accept anything less than the best."

—REP. KEITH BROOKS

For more information on how Arkansas is empowering parents and students, visit TheFGA.org/state/arkansas.

Watch the full interview at:
TheFGA.org/videos

