MISSISSIPPI STATE TREASURER

ESG Behind the Scenes With Mississippi State Treasurer David McRae

When Mississippi State Treasurer David McRae came into office, he immediately heard from other states and elected officials about something hidden from the public eye: ESG (environmental, social, and governance) investing. Wall Street bankers—not elected officials or anyone interested in what’s best for Mississippi—are making major financial decisions in secret, and farmers, families, and retirees are paying the price for their political agenda.

“Whenever you can get Democrats and Republicans, in a contentious House and a contentious Senate, you get them to agree that this is a bad idea...then you know it’s a bad idea.”

—MISSISSIPPI STATE TREASURER DAVID MCRAE
